All,

I just got word from the clerk that due to court congestion, we will be unable to start the [REDACTED] trial next week. Please let me know about any vacations, etc. later this year or in early 2012 that I should plan around (other than Thanksgiving / last couple weeks in December).

Ben

ben and mike - no sessions are available to take your case next week for trial. looks like we need a new trial date. do you both want to leave it on for 11/1 to come in and pick a new date? realistically, we are looking no earlier than mid-February or early March in this session.
